COLONIAL HOME possesses sufficient space, 2,825 square feet, for truly gracious living. Laundry room is upstairs, with the four bedrooms, so that the housewife can save steps. Downstairs, there is a room which could be a fifth bedroom, or a library. Family room overlooks the rear and side patios and contains a handsome brick fireplace. Should Bride Know Where the Hammer Is?

by Ruth Millett, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A man has defined the ideal wife as one who can instantly locate the screwdriver, the pliers or the hammer.

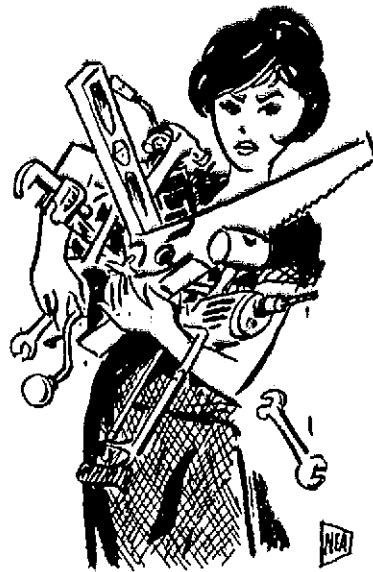

Don't any of you young and inexperienced homemakers fall for that line.

Millett

If the first time your young husband misplaces his handy-man tools and yells for you to find whatever he has lost you oblige him, you will be held responsible for everything he misplaces the rest of your married life.

The bride's proper and only self-protective answer when her husband asks for the hammer, or anything else he should be responsible for keeping in its place, is a sweet, untroubled, "Why I don't know; it must be wherever you left it."

What's more, she shouldn't rush to help him find what he's looking for, because if she does he'll regard that as an admission that she should know where to find it, but doesn't.

Husbands who go through life strewing their possessions around, expecting them to be put back where they belong by their wives, and fetched quickly whenever the husband hollers for help, aren't as easy to live with as husbands who learned early in their married lives that their wives expected them to look after their own possessions.

Maybe from a man's point of view an ideal wife is one who can instantly locate whatever her husband has neglected to put in its appointed place.

But any man who thinks that is part of a good wife's job isn't exactly an ideal husband from a wife's point of view.

White Socks Stay Hidden

By Polly Cramer, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Polly

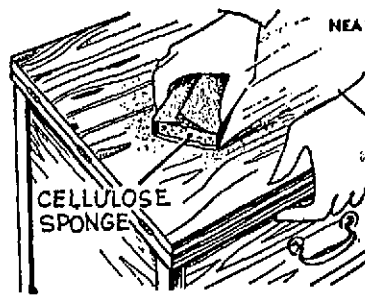

DEAR POLLY—My husband was bothered with athlete's foot and was advised to wear only white cotton socks. Since he must dress in suits which require black socks we found some thin white cotton socks which are very comfortable under his black ones.—H. K.

DEAR POLLY—The other day when I was doing a lot of baking I became frustrated looking for the different spices I needed. I would find one and then have to go back to the pantry to look for another. Finally I put all the spices in a shoe box. Now I can take the whole box to the spot where I am mixing and everything is at my fingertips.—LORETTA

DEAR POLLY—Hanging curtains at my basement windows was a real problem as the walls are cement block. Finally I applied those picture hangers with adhesive backs at either side. I use small, round curtain rods which rest easily on the hangers. No holes, no mess, no fuss.—A. J. M.

DEAR POLLY—When I hem a dress and want to avoid using pins I run the largest, loosest stitch on my sewing machine. I hem neatly by hand and then pull out the machine stitching very quickly. I can work anywhere in the house without worrying about pins falling and being picked up by my small children.—MRS. M. J. F.

DEAR POLLY—I would like to pass on a trick I discovered to others who like to refinish furniture. I pulled the cracked, chipped varnish off my birch sewing machine cabinet with a paint scraper. This was quick and easy. Next I started to sandpaper and found it hard on my fingers. I wrapped the sandpaper around a piece of wood but found that the unyielding wood would not allow me to get a very good contact.

I substituted a medium-sized cellulose sponge, well-dried and very stiff, and it worked to perfection. There is just enough give to the sponge to let it dig in and the flat sides make perfect contact.—KATHRYN

DEAR POLLY—To make an inexpensive headboard for a king-sized bed, cover 3/4-inch-thick plywood with 2-inch-thick foam rubber. Bevel the edges of the foam rubber and glue it into place on the plywood. Cover with any upholstery fabric or vinyl (we used gold brocade) and tack across the back of the headboard with a staple gun. Add posts at the bottom to raise the headboard to the proper height.—MRS. R. G. H.

One Note Swells Into Orchestra

by Joan Crosby

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Garry Sherman pushed in plugs, crossed wires, turned knobs and dials and nothing happened.

Joan Crosby

"Oh," he said, with a smile. "I forgot to plug in the piano."

Sherman, a young man who makes a very good living as a conductor-arranger for recordings (in the past three years, he has contributed to hit records that have sold 10 million copies), is hooked on electronic music. But not, he hastens to add, "space music," that weird, tuneless noise some composers are turning out to baffle and deafen eardrums.

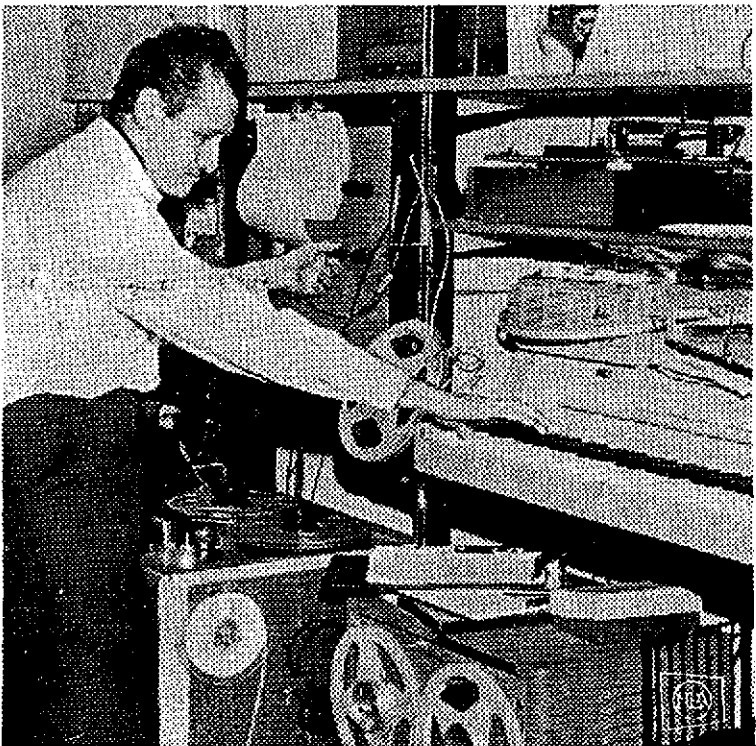

To show what electronic music can do, if used as "an extension of the orchestral palette," Sherman plugged in the piano, played one note, ran it through his laboratory of electronic equipment. By twisting a dial, he turned that one note into a full orchestration of sound.

"The sounds from a keyboard are infinite," Garry said.

His studio occupies a room of his apartment overlooking the Hudson River in Manhattan. In another room, his four young red-headed sons (Matthew 5, twins Brian and Mike 3 and Jed 9 months) were playing with an old-fashioned (i.e. not plugged in) piano.

"I have never blown a fuse in the apartment," Garry smiled, "but my wife has."

A 33-year-old native of Brooklyn, Garry has composed the score for a Seven Arts film, "Shadow of Evil." He played a portion of it. The electronic music blended so perfectly with the live orchestra that it was sometimes difficult to tell which was which. An occasional sound that seemed to be instrumental turned out to be electronic. That's just the way Garry thinks it should be. "I would rather have people wonder what an instrument is, than have them know it is electronic."

Electronic music fascinates Garry Sherman (shown above). As conductor-arranger, he contributes special sound to recordings but is down on "space music" as too weird and tuneless.

His immediate aim is to take a year off from his work and studies, and devote himself to a serious composition for orchestra and electronic music. Why his big interest in this kind of music? The answer is a simple one.

"Composers and orchestras have always looked for new sounds."

THE BEST RECORD ALBUMS BEST BUYS—Ed Ames proves again he's the finest pop singer around in "It's a Man's World" (RCA Victor, an excellent album with songs that show the varied tonal qualities of his beautiful voice. It's Greek to listeners in "An Evening With Belafonte/Mouskouri" (RCA Victor), with Harry joining Nana Mouskouri in a program of Greek songs. The Mitchell Trio has some wonderful satire in "Violets of Dawn" (Mercury), listen to "Your Friendly Liberal Neighborhood Ku Klux Klan" and "Talking Football." "The Downtown Sound of Tony Hatch" (Warner Brothers) has plenty of songs by the "Downtown" composer. Maurice Jarre has composed a moving score for "Dr. Zhivago" (MGM). Charles Rosen has piano fireworks in "Virtuosos" (Epic). "Presenting Montserrat Caballe" (RCA Victor) introduces the Spanish diva whose voice and techniques are magnificent. "Meeting at the Summit" (Columbia) has Benny Goodman playing the works of Copland, Bernstein, Gould and Stravinsky. "The Poetic World of Jacques Brel" (Philips) lets the powerful young Frenchman sing his own compositions, which are decidedly full of dispar and words not usually used in mixed company. But he's a strong singer. "You're Gonna Hear From Me" (RCA Victor) introduces Gary Marshal, a good English ballad singer, with a swinging beat.

OTHER GOOD VOCAL ALBUMS

"The Leroy Van Dyke Show" (Warner Brothers); "Lorne Greene's American West" (RCA Victor); "Sarah Vaughn—Pop Artistry" (Mercury); "Jimmie Rodgers—Nashville Sound" (Dot); "Danke Schoen—Bernd Spler" (Columbia); "Nat King Cole at the Sands" (Capitol); "Beware the Bantams" (Warner Brothers); "World of Charles Aznavour" (Reprise) and "Ella at Duke's Place" (Verve).

Murder Trial Reveals Lurid Sensations

By ARTHUR EVERETT

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state, piling one lurid sensation on top another, now claims to have a revealing love letter from Melvin Lane Powers to his murder victim, Candace Mossler.

Circuit Judge George Schulz said at the pair's first-degree murder trial that he needs convincing before he will let any testimony about the letter reach the ears of the all-male jury.

The prosecution let it be known it considers the nine-page letter a potential bombshell.

Arguing for its admittance, the state said the letter was intercepted when Powers attempted to smuggle it out of the Houston jail after his arrest in the slaying of Mrs. Mossler's aging husband, multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

The state presses ahead today — Mrs. Mossler's birthday — with more surprise testimony. It concerns a purported tyst last Thanksgiving weekend in a Mexican border town between the small, shapely Mrs. Mossler and her strapping, 6-foot-3 nephew — a continuation of what the prosecution claims was a love affair.

"This particular love affair went on not only up to demise of the victim but even up to a year and a half afterward," declared Asst. State Atty. Gerald Kogan in a successful argument for admission of the testimony from a Matamoros, Mexico, hotel employee.

He underwent questioning by the state through a Spanish interpreter.

Q: What time of night did you see Melvin Lane Powers and Candace Mossler?

A: Nine-thirty at night.

Q: Where did you see them?

A: When they registered at the hotel.

Q: Who filled out the registration card?

A: Mr. Powers.

Q: Did he use his name or another?

A: He signed it M. Lane.

Q: After the defendant Powers registered at the hotel what did he do?

A: He went up to the room.

Q: Who went with him?

A: The bellboy and Mrs. Mossler.

Hernandez testified the couple checked out after 10 a.m. the next day although he took this from hotel records and was not present himself.

Under cross-examination by Powers' attorney, Percy Foreman, Hernandez was asked:

Q: Tell us when Mr. Lane came down?

A: After some 10 minutes.

Q: How long was he down?

A: He asked for a taxi and he left.

Q: Alone?

A: Yes.

Q: Did you see when he returned?

No, sir.

San Antonio to Receive Honors

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — When President Johnson is at the Texas White House in the future, stories about him may be detailed "San Antonio" instead of Austin.

Press, security, military and communications experts recently made a survey of San Antonio facilities. In the past, when President Johnson has been at the LBJ Ranch, press briefings have been conducted at Austin, and most stories were given an Austin dateline.

Oldtimers Coming Back to Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Television is now in its midseason sluff as executives ponder most recent Nielsen ratings and make opening moves in a three-network chess game. Each hopes to outsmart the competition in designing a fool-proof, audience-luring schedule for next season.

All signs indicate that next season's programs are unlikely to contain much that isn't currently available. It may be that the medium has come full circle and is about to return to some of yesterday's stars.

We will, in all probability, have good old Uncle Milty back as a regular and also Arthur Godfrey.

Word also comes that NBC has ordered up for next season a two-hour T V Show called "Dragnet 66," which puts Jack Webb back in his original role of Sergeant on Friday. That goes back almost 15 years, and one TV time. This time Harry Morgan, late of "December Bride" and "Pete and Gladys," will be Webb's detecting partner — his fifth.

ABC will cover the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings live Friday if Secretary of State Dean Rusk testifies. Today's hearings will be covered by the network with a couple of special summaries of highlights around the noon hour and in the late afternoon.

Tuesday night Mia Farrow of "Peyton Place" disappeared from one scene with long blonde hair and turned up in the next with her hair as short as Peter Pan's.

The effect was, to say the least, startling. A couple of months ago Miss Farrow on a mad impulse picked up a pair of scissors and chopped off her flowing tresses, in an incident that resounded across the studio lot and into the press.

"Peyton Place's" resourceful script writers handled it neatly, though. Allison — her character — asked her doctor if he liked her hair and he had a meaningful, response: "Are you trying to brand yourself because you are illegitimate?" And then they went on as if an important crisis had been passed.

Televisionland is a nice place to visit, but if you stay there long enough, your sense of proportion does get a bit warped.

Defends Job Loss Report, Raps Rozzell

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An official of the Arkansas (Negro) Teachers Association defended Wednesday a National Education Association report on Negro teachers' loss of jobs because of desegregation.

T. E. Patterson, executive secretary of the group, said he was appalled at criticism of the report by Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association.

Rozzell called the report the "shoddiest piece of alleged research the NEA has ever been connected with" and said it violated every accepted rule of evidence and research.

Patterson contributed information to the report.

Rozzell also said the report was calculated to appeal to prejudice and made no effort to be objective, factual or rational.

The report said that 40 Negro teachers in Arkansas had lost their jobs through school desegregation. Patterson said he could not validate the total state report, but said all the data he submitted was authenticated by letters, phone calls or personal interviews from the persons involved.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In the bustling world of AM radio with its almost 4,000 stations and all types of programming, four operations concerned only with news broadcasts are doing very well.

There exists no official listing of the formats of most stations, but it is probable that about 60 to 65 per cent are what is called "middle of the road," playing nonfrenetic music, providing news at stated intervals and presenting some talk shows.

Another 15 per cent or so are currently dedicated to playing rock 'n' roll music plus news, and these are usually referred to in the trade as "Top 40" or "Top 100" stations because they specialize in playing the best-selling music records.

Formats of the rest are a mixed bag — stations specializing in playing standard, Western or folk music; foreign language broadcasts or aiming at special ethnic audiences, like Negroes or Spanish-speaking peoples.

There is also a comparatively small specialty: all new stations.

There are XETRA whose signal originates in Tijuana, Mexico, but has its big audience north through Los Angeles, and WNUS of Chicago, both operated as part of the McClelland Group of stations. Then there are WINS of New York and KYW of Philadelphia of the Westinghouse Group W stations.

Altogether they hardly make a statistic in the big, booming radio field. But they are being watched with interest by all broadcasters.

Actually, XETRA, started in 1961 under McClelland management was not the first station to decide to try and all-news-and-commercials format. A year before, it had been attempted briefly at KFAX in San Francisco, but didn't work out.

Deputy Will Do Most of Work

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard will succeed ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as leader of the Christian Democrats, but parliamentary leader Rainer Barzel will do most of the work as Erhard's first deputy.

That was the solution worked out Wednesday at a three-hour meeting of the party's Steering Committee. All three key figures attended the meeting, which was called to avert a floor fight when the final decision is made at the party convention at the end of March.

Adenauer, 90, will step down after the convention.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Ten Lashes With My Typewriter Ribbon—Again

Dear Helen: You said somebody would catch you up when you wrote that a seven-pound "seven months" baby was probably due more to premature parents than premature birth. You are right!

If the woman won a $10 bet from her husband on your say-so, she should give it back, because "preemies" CAN weigh seven pounds, and more. Mine did.

I was married in October. Our baby was due on September 11 but to everyone's surprise she arrived July 18, and weighed seven pounds, eight ounces. This almost caused a break-up in our marriage because people didn't mind their own business, and kept telling us it wasn't possible.

Then to everyone's surprise, our second daughter, who was due on September 22, arrived August 16, and weighed eight pounds, two ounces. Again, people thought we were crazy.

One year later, our third was due on July 2, but arrived stillborn on May 5, and weighed 9 pounds, one ounce.

The facts can be obtained from our doctor: — J. L. J.

Dear J: Looks like I'm due for another ten lashes with my typewriter ribbon — But I did say "Probably." — H.

Dear Helen: Watching the commercials this year I guess there is yet hope for TV. They are downright clever — a good part of them anyhow. Why don't they put advertising men to work on the PROGRAMS? — T. G.

A Limit To Loyalty

Dear Helen: My husband walked out after 26 years of cheating and fighting. Before our divorce was final he had moved in with another woman. I am getting all the alimony the judge would give me, and it isn't enough for the years of misery I put in. For 25 years I couldn't stand the sight of him! I only consented to a divorce because he paid plenty for it.

But in spite of the torment he put me through, my daughter had the nerve to visit him with that woman in the house and take him a birthday present. She even took her husband and children with her, and allowed the children to call him Grandpa. I have told my daughter she doesn't need to see me again. Do you blame me? — Hurt and Furious

Dear H and F: Yes, I blame you. But there's no point telling you why.

Hate, bitterness, revenge — and alimony. What a lovely future you'll have! — H.

Dear Helen: Our son went steady with a girl for four years then they broke up in a friendly mutual manner. They just outgrew each other. That was two years ago, and now she is engaged. Recently we received an invitation to her wedding. None of the family really cares about going, as we've gone separate ways since then. Must we? And how about a gift? — Laura

Dear Laura: The choice is yours. You aren't obligated to attend a wedding or send a gift — unless you're such a close personal friend that you are also invited to the reception. And in that case, you'd want to do both. — H.

P.S. DO send a card with warm best wishes — and your regrets for not being able to make it. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Hope Star.

Bombs Explode on India Tains

NEW DELHI (AP) — Two time bombs exploded in a third-class coach on the Assam mail express in northeast India Wednesday night, killing 36 passengers, and injuring 63. Railways Minister Ram Subhag Singh told Parliament.

Reports from the area blamed rebellious Naga tribesmen. Singh said one bomb went off in the rear compartment of the coach, blowing the roof off the car and halting the train. Half an hour later, while the dead and injured were still being removed, a second bomb exploded in the front compartment of the coach and caused more casualties.

Naga tribesmen fighting for independence roam the area, and the Indian army has never been able to subdue them.

Coody Carries 1 Stroke Lead in Tucson Open

By BOB EGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Charles Coody carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $60,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament, but no less than 20 other par-busters were within three strokes of the 28-year-old Texan.

Coody recovered from a first-hole bogey Thursday to fire a five-under-par 67 and capture the first-day lead. Applying the most pressure were Dick Lotz and Mason Rudolph, who had 68s.

Doug Sanders, Larry Griggs, Joe Campbell, George Archer, Jay Dolan, Gardner Dickinson Jr., and Bob Johnson were tied two strokes back at 69.

Sanders and Dickinson have been among the pro tour's hottest players of late. Sanders won the recent Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic at Palm Springs, Calif., and Dickinson finished second in the Phoenix Open Monday after leading for three rounds.

Grouped three strokes back at 70 after the first round were Randy Glover, Rocky Thompson, Dick Mayer, Julius Boros, Fred Parit, John Lotz, Steve Opperman, Billy Martindale, Johnny Pott and Steve Spray.

Coody, a Stamford, Conn., native who plays out of Fort Worth, toured the back nine first in one-under-par 35, then eagled the 520-yard par 5 second hole en route to a four-under 32 on the back nine.

It was the second straight sub-par opening round for Coody, who started with a 69 in the Phoenix Open and finished in a tie for ninth.

Frozen greens delayed the start of play nearly an hour Thursday and nine players still were on the course when darkness halted the action. Among them, only Joe Carr was a threat to move in with the leaders. Carr was three-under-par after 15 holes.

The nine non-finishers completed their round before the start of today's second round.

The pros had predicted they'd have a tougher line with the Tucson National golf course than they did last year when Bob Charles won with a 17-under-par total of 271.

But 44 of them equalled or bettered par Thursday on the 7,200 yard desert layout, known throughout the West for its giant, rolling greens.

Houston Builds Win Streak to 13 Games

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Calverley and Rhode Island are back in the headlines in college basketball today. Back in 1946 Calverley scored a historic 55-foot field goal in the last two seconds to save Rhode Island from defeat against Bowling Green in the NIT quarter-finals. Calverley went on to win the tournament's Most Valuable Player award although Rhode Island lost to Kentucky by one point in the final.

Now coach at his alma mater Calverley saw his Rhodies score a decisive 84-61 upset road victory over the nationally ranked Providence Friars Thursday night. It shattered Providence's 39-game home winning streak.

Art Stephenson, a 6-foot-5 sophomore from New York City, led the assault with 29 points for the Yankee Conference leaders against the Friars, No. 6 in The Associated Press poll this week. Jimmy Walker, Providence star, fouled out as the Friars lost only their third game in 20 starts. Rhode Island now is 16-5 over-all.

The Denver Pioneers, playing at home, came through with the night's other upset. They snapped Oklahoma City's 10-game winning streak 84-63 aided by Rick Callahan's free throw on a technical foul called on Abe Lemons, the Oklahoma City coach, in the last 27 seconds. It was the Chiefs' fourth defeat against 20 victories.

Houston's Cougars extended their winning streak to 13 with a 111-96 home-court triumph over Miami of Florida behind the combined 64 points of Joe Hamond and Elvin Hayes. Hamond 51, got 33 and Hayes, 68, got 31.

Dave Bing's 31 points paced Syracuse to its seventh straight, an 83-73 road conquest of Pitt. Cincinnati tightened its hold on first place in the Missouri Valley Conference by whipping North Texas 88-63 and Wichita took over second place by drubbing Bradley 98-79.

Louisville defeated Tulsa 64-50 and Drake downed St. Louis 75-59 in other Missouri Valley games. All the MVC home teams won.

Manhattan beat Georgetown, D.C., 83-80 and NYU walloped Notre Dame 102-78 in a double-header at New York's Madison Square Garden. Baltimore Loyola went two overtimes to beat Seton Hall 73-71 and Mt. St. Mary's crushed American U. 92-71 in another twin bill at the Civic Center in Baltimore.

In other results, Utah State downed Seattle 84-74, Georgia Tech beat Tulane 99-85, Richmond took East Carolina 100-88 and William and Mary whipped St. Francis of Pennsylvania 67-52. All were home-court victories.

Clay Fight Scheduled March 29

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Chances are the heavyweight title fight between Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell will be staged on March 29 as scheduled, despite Clay's I-A draft classification.

"I don't think he would be included in the March call if he appealed," said Miss Winifred K. Phillips, chief clerk for Jefferson County's 10 draft boards. Clay, in Miami training for the fight, said he will appeal the classification assigned him Thursday by Local Board 47. "I don't know just how I'll appeal. I don't know anything about the law. I just know I will."

Miss Phillips said the quota was expected today, and that Clay's name won't be placed on the list of eligibles until 10 days after his re-classification. "His isn't a special case," she said. "He has the same rights, privileges, and obligations as all other young men. And they all have 10 days to appeal a classification."

After the re-classification however, Edward W. Jackson Jr., who identified himself as Clay's personal attorney and who testified for 40 minutes before the board, said ground for an appeal hasn't been determined.

Miss Phillips said she doubts if the champion would be included in the March call even if the appeal were denied. She said the quota must be filled within 10 days.

The fight, then, though still uncertain, is a better than even chance of being staged in Chicago as planned.

Appraisal

DALLAS — (NEA) — Doak Walker and Bobby Layne are close friends. Both have tremendous respect for each other. And loyalty.

"Bobby never lost a game in his life," Doak said, "time just ran out on him a few times."

Grelle-Ryun May Produce Record Mile

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Jim Grelle-Jim Ryun clash could produce the season's first sub-four minute mile, while Tommy Farrell vs. Bill Crothers may make an indoor record at the half mile tonight in the New York Athletic Club Indoor Games.

But there's a big if attached to each one.

Grelle, the Oregon ace with the killing kick, is running only if Mrs. Grelle delays the arrival of an expected child. And Farrell, the tough little St. John's star, will go only if an ailing leg is right.

Both are expected to be ready. But meet officials won't know about Grelle until he arrives at Madison Square Garden, and Farrell won't know about the leg until he tests it on the track.

"If Farrell is 100 per cent, the half mile could go under 1:49," St. John's coach Steve Bartold forecast.

And if Grelle goes, he and Ryun stand an excellent chance of producing the first sub-four mile of the season. Each is unbeaten this year. Grelle has run the fastest mile of the indoor season, 4:00.9, and Ryun, the freshman phenom from Kansas, has run the second fastest, 4:01.6.

They haven't run against each other this season, nor have Farrell and Crothers, the lean Toronto pharmacist who is generally regarded as the world's best indoor middle-distance man.

The last time Farrell and Crothers got together—in this same meet last year—Farrell scored his only victory over the Canadian, hustling home in an indoor record 1:49.8. Crothers is unbeaten at distances from 800 to 1,000 yards this year and has been out of action for two weeks, resting and training for the rematch.

Farrell, however, developed a cramp in his left leg last week, and won't know until race time whether he'll go—but he's expected to.

"As of right now, he's running and defending," Bartold said.

Brazilian Bids for Top Tennis Spot

By WILL GRMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Tomaz Koch, Brazil's one-time boy wonder, is now a man — and ready to put in his bid for world amateur tennis honors.

"I suppose I only needed to mature," the tall, 20-year-old left-hander from Porto Alegre in the province of Rio Grande do Sul said today.

"Up to now, I have not managed to put good matches together."

Koch scored his second major upset in the National Indoor Tennis Championships here Thursday night, beating Rafael Osuna of Mexico 6-3, 6-4 to enter the semifinals. On Wednesday he had knocked off top-seeded Dennis Ralston.

"I am getting more confidence, and that is very important," the handsome Brazilian said. "I plan to go from here to Los Angeles and work for six weeks with Pancho Segura."

"Then I'll go to Europe where my primary aim is to win Wimbledon."

Koch's two big victories on successive days have made him a strong contender for the U.S. indoor crown, but he faces two more formidable obstacles.

In Saturday's semifinals, he must face Charlie Pasarell, the flashy Puerto Rican, who finally halted the surge of young Bobby Lutz, an 18-year-old University of Southern California freshman from Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-4.

Then he must take on the survivor of the upper bracket which includes such imposing names as Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va.; Cliff Drysdale of South Africa; Ron Holmberg of Dallas, and Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y.

The second-seeded Ashe meets Drysdale and Holmberg faces Scott, upset winner over Manuel Santana of Spain in tonight's remaining quarters. The semifinals are set for Saturday, the title match Sunday.

Familiar Feeling

LEXINGTON, KY. — (NEA) — Adolph Rupp, the Kentucky basketball coach, was driving to a game in Atlanta where the Wildcats were to play Georgia Tech.

He stopped at a gas station and, while waiting for the attendant to finish his work, spied a strange figure shooting an imaginary basketball at an imaginary basket.

Bobcats Face Tough Foe Here Tonight

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star Sports Writer

Tonight begins what promises to be one of the roughest basketball weekends the Hope Bobcats have faced this year as they meet the Arkadelphia Badgers before traveling to Crossett for an outing with the league leading Eagles Saturday.

The game tonight will be played in Jones Field House as each team will be fighting to knock the other out of the current three-way tie for third place in the district standings. Also involved in the deadlock with the Bobcats and Arkadelphia for the number three spot in this weeks list are the Warren Lumberjacks.

The Badgers soundly thumped the Cats in the earlier meeting which was played on the Arkadelphia court, 58-42. That was the game in which Hope scored a mere four points all the way through the entire fourth quarter.

But there's more at stake in tonight's contest than revenge. The Bobcats realize full well that in order to receive a berth for the State AA Basketball Tournament they must be one of the top four teams in the district. And they won't be able to set tie for a tie.

Then tomorrow night the Cats will make the trip all the way to the other side of the state for a battle with the first place Crossett Eagles. The Bobcats are responsible for Crossett's only defeat of the season, a 65-63 decision at Hope last month. If the Cats turn in the splendid performance they did then and can get by Arkadelphia too they should be well on their way to the State Tourney. Otherwise the Hope roundballers may have a couple of more rough weekends before this conference season is completed.

In the other big game of the weekend in District 4AA Fourth ranked Fairview could possibly tighten the race for second place by turning back second place Smackover tonight.

Helicopter Crashes Kill 7 Americans

By THOMAS A. REEDY
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two helicopter crashes in South Viet Nam within the past 24 hours have taken the lives of seven Americans. An eighth American died a hero's death when he threw himself on a Viet Cong grenade.

A Marine helicopter crashed and burned while taking off at Phu Hai Thursday. One Marine was killed and four injured, two seriously. No explanation for the crash was given.

An Army helicopter crashed 10 miles northeast of Saigon today, and six soldiers were killed. Circumstances of the crash were not immediately reported.

The soldier hero died when a Viet Cong company attacked a small unit of the 25th Division in ambush positions 25 miles west of Saigon near Cu Chi, scene of repeated furious battles since the 25th established a base there three weeks ago.

The Viet Cong fire was so heavy that nearly two platoons of reinforcements and jet napalm attacks were needed to get the beleaguered unit out. Six to 10 Viet Cong were reported killed; American casualties were officially described as "light to moderate."

In the air war against North Viet Nam, a U.S. spokesman said U.S. Air Force planes for the past three days had lashed the air base at Dien Bien Phu, west of Hanoi, where the French lost their Indochina War in 1954.

The spokesman said 50 more buildings had been destroyed, bringing the total destruction to 255 buildings. The nearly four-square-mile area once consisted of 419 military barracks, storage structures, and multistoried administrative quarters.

Navy carrier planes raided in North Viet Nam along routes from Vinh south and west to the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos, the spokesman said. Pilots reported destroying five bridges, cratering approaches to five more and cutting roads.

"What's that guy doing?" Rupp asked the attendant.

"Oh," came the reply, "he used to be our high school basketball coach. Don't pay any attention to him, he's slightly off his rocker."

"Tell him to keep on shooting," replied Rupp. "If we lose this game to Tech, I'll be back to guard him."

Hope School District No. 1-A of Hempstead County, Arkansas hereby gives notice that it will sell on auction bids on the date specified below its proposed issue of $150,000 Construction School Bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 4.25 per cent per annum, to be dated February 1, 1966, with interest to be payable semiannually on June 1 and December 1 of each year commencing December 1, 1966, and maturing serially on December 1 of each year as follows:

YEAR	AMOUNT
1971	$3,000
1972	5,000
1973	8,000
1974	7,000
1975	7,000
1976	8,000
1977	9,000
1978	9,000
1979	10,000
1980	11,000
1981	11,000
1982	12,000
1983	12,000
1984	13,000
1985	13,000
1986	14,000

The bonds were approved by the electors of the district at the annual school election on September 28, 1965 and at said election a one mill tax to be collected in the years 1966 through 1971 and thereafter an eight mill continuing annual building fund tax was voted for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds until paid in full. The bonds will be general obligations of the School District secured by the District's full faith, credit and resources. They will be primarily payable from said building fund tax, but in addition, the bonds will be secured by a pledge of all revenue that the District can legally pledge including the annual surplus derived each year from the building fund taxes previously voted for bonds now outstanding.

The surplus arising each year from the District's building fund taxes, after providing for principal and interest maturing that year and the next six months' interest on all the District's outstanding bonds, may be used by the District for calling bonds for payment prior to maturity or for other school purposes.

The assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the District, according to the 1965 assessment (the latest assessment of record) is $9,009,883.

The purchaser may name the trustee and paying agent. The following expenses will be paid by the District's fiscal agent, Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas, the printing of the bonds the trustee's fee for authenticating the bonds, and the fee of Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued.

Supplemental and dual coupons will not be permitted, but the bonds may be converted to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest with a conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables and upon such terms that the District receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted, and the conversion shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the District and of the Commissioner of Education of the State of Arkansas.

The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity, at the option of the District, in whole or in part, in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: From surplus proceeds of said building fund tax on any interest paying date; from funds from any source on any interest paying date on and after June 1, 1971.

No bid of less than par and accrued interest will be entertained and the award, if made, will be to the bidder whose bid results in the lowest net interest cost to the District computed by determining the total interest cost from date to maturity and deducting any premium.

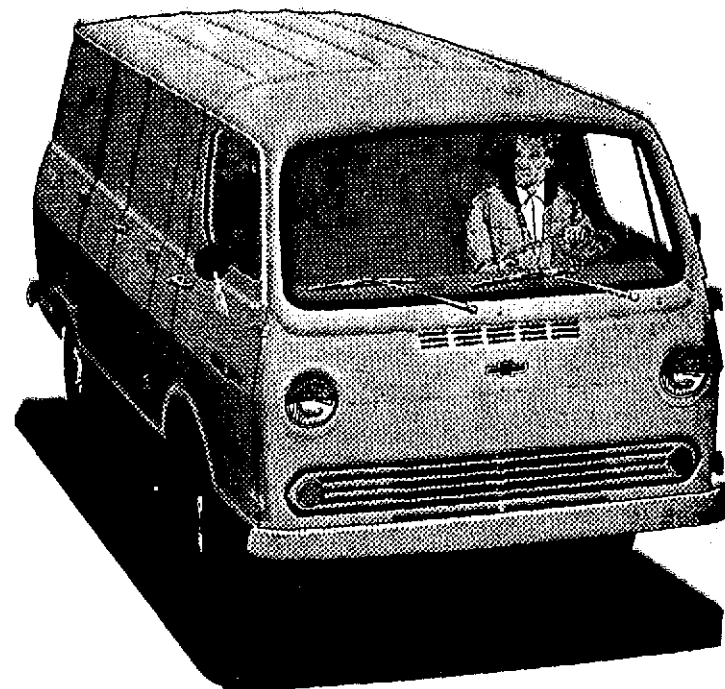

The bonds will be sold upon auction bids at 2:00 o'clock p.m. on the 15 day of March, 1966 in the office of Superintendent of Schools in Hope, Arkansas. Each bidder will be required to file a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,000 on a bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the District, to be kept as liquidated damages if the bidder is awarded the sale of the bonds and fails to complete the purchase. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned and the District will not pay interest on good faith checks. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

For further information address the undersigned, or Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas.

Life in Arkansas By J. C. TILLMAN Associated Press Writer

A district Rotary Club in Northeast Arkansas has a cog missing. Actually, it is the organization's symbol, a Cog-wheel, which was especially made for the district meeting at Arkansas State College last year. The large plywood wheel served as a fine decoration for the district meeting. When the session ended, no one thought the symbol would be needed again. But the district governor for the club this year is a resident of Poinsett County, Arthur O'Bryant of Lepanto. O'Bryant asked that the Jonesboro club sponsor the district meeting again. Now Col. R. A. Treneman of Arkansas State College, chairman of arrangements for the district meeting, is out looking for one large wheel. Heard at Russellville: "About the only thing predictable about the local weather the past few months is that it's unpredictable." A city councilman at Harrison felt the parking meter policeman who made the rounds of the downtown section every two hours wasn't fast enough. The councilman counted the red flags showing and recommended purchase of a motor scooter to help speed the collections. The council agreed.

Two young Californians, Bill Hanna and Douglas Steen, were playing in a Regional championship in St. Louis in 1952. Doug sitting North opened with three no-trump and Bill raised him to six no-trump with the South hand. A very unlucky expert sitting East doubled, whereupon Bill bid seven clubs. The unlucky expert sitting East doubled that also, whereupon South proceeded to make seven clubs doubled for a top score to end all top scores. East was really unlucky. Doug and Bill were playing a brand new convention known as the gambling three no-trump. In this convention you open three no-trump with a solid suit and possibly an honor or two on the side and pray for fair weather. This convention was listed on their card but the unlucky expert had not bothered to read the card so he doubled six no-trump with the smile of a hungry tiger who has just been offered fresh meat. This gave Bill Hanna a chance to do some card reading of his own. Obviously, his partner's solid suit was clubs and it was equally obvious that East had doubled with the ace and king and possibly the queen of hearts. Six no-trump was not going to make but there had to be hope for seven clubs so Bill bid it. East doubled seven clubs also but it was not the cheerful sort of double he had made against six no-trump, and he was right not to be cheerful. West had to choose which one of three suits to lead and guessed wrong. He opened the ten of spades and Bill drew trumps and claimed his grand slam. Sport parachutes have large holes in them which permit the air to escape and drive the parachute in the opposite direction of the hole much like a low-power jet. Horizontal speeds of 10 miles per hour can be reached. The two criteria of sport parachuting are "style" during free fall and accuracy in landing.

Solution in Rhodesia Likely

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—Selwyn Lloyd, the British Conservative party's spokesman on Commonwealth affairs, said today it would be "difficult but not impossible" to reach a solution of the Rhodesian crisis.

Lloyd went to Zambia after a visit during which he said he had talked with hundreds of political leaders, businessmen, clergymen, farmers and Africans.

He said he told everyone that the unilateral declaration of independence by Prime Minister Ian Smith's government "was wrong and that a European minority could not expect to rule an African majority indefinitely."

"I think," Lloyd said, "that a middle course of gradual evolution (to rule by the African majority) was never really considered. The Rhodesians thought it was independence or one-man one-vote."

"It should not be impossible to arrive at a settlement which would permit Rhodesia to go forward."

Handcuffs Will Haunt Him

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Lawrence Hopper, 22, won't easily forget the day he took his fiancée handcuffed to police headquarters.

Hooper is not a policeman. And his fiancée, Carolyn Berwick, 19, has not robbed any banks.

The handcuffs were handed down in Hooper's family with a pile of dusty heirlooms he and Carolyn were examining.

Carolyn's curiosity got the best of her and she clapped them on her wrists, before inquiring whether there was a key.

Search at headquarters uncovered a key that fit.

Resistance to Cut in School Aid

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Stiff resistance is growing in Congress to President Johnson's proposal to cut $216 million from an aid program for public schools in areas with large concentrations of federal workers.

The program has been a congressional favorite since it began in 1950 and there is little enthusiasm for Johnson's recommended slash of 57 per cent in its budget.

Under Johnson's proposal, 2,030 counties in all 50 states, plus the District of Columbia, would face heavy cuts in the federal funds they are now using to build schools and to pay teachers' salaries and other operating expenses.

San Diego County would lose $6 million, Los Angeles $3.6 million and the state of California as a whole, $35.4 million under the new approach. Texas would suffer the second biggest reduction — $13.9 million. Many Southern and Western cities near military bases would lose nearly all of their allotments.

Some school authorities have warned their representatives in Congress that the school year may have to be shortened and salaries cut if the reduced budget is approved.

The program was originally designed to help school districts near large military bases which bore the double burden of having to educate the children from the bases while their tax base was reduced by federal property ownership. It has since been greatly expanded to take in the children of civilian federal employees wherever they comprise more than 3 per cent of the school district's enrollment.

At present, expenditures for the program top $400 million and the school districts which receive the aid count on it for a substantial part of their budget.

Viewing the steady expansion and growing cost of the program, the last three administrations have tried to cut it, but without success. Johnson is relying on the big, broad school aid program enacted by Congress last year to take the sting out of the cuts he is now proposing.

Revenue Bonds for New Water Plant

PARIS, Ark. (AP)—The Paris City Council has approved a $92,000 revenue bond issue to help finance construction of a $186,000 water treatment plant.

There would be no increase in water rates, the council said.

The council said it planned to apply for a grant of federal matching funds. Paris has a 40-year-old plant that handles 700,000 gallons of water daily. The new plant would double the water capacity.

Last year's queen was Luci Baines Johnson, daughter of President Johnson.

LBJ Seeking More Civil Rights Power

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will ask Congress to put new teeth into federal laws aimed at desegregating public schools, it was learned today.

He will ask also for about 100 new FBI agents to cope with that agency's swelling civil rights caseload, informed sources said.

A bill being drafted by the Johnson administration would give the attorney general greater authority to initiate court action toward desegregation of schools instead of awaiting complaints and taking part in suits brought by Negroes.

The proposal would be aimed at blocking intimidation of Negroes seeking to integrate schools and harassment of Negro pupils attending previously all-white schools, according to informants.

The President is expected to include school desegregation proposals in a civil rights package that will include proposed laws to eliminate discrimination in jury selection; extend federal court protection to Negroes and civil rights workers in the South, and eliminate discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

Johnson included all but the school proposals in his Jan. 12 State of the Union Message. The bills reportedly are nearing completion in the hands of Justice Department draftsmen.

The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights reported Tuesday that nearly 12 years after the Supreme Court ruled that segregated schools are unconstitutional, only one of every 13 Negro children in the South is attending school with white pupils.

The commission said fear, intimidation by whites, racial ties and habits have combined in the South to circumvent desegregation plans and federal laws aimed at withholding federal aid from school districts where segregation continues.

One of the commission's proposals will be reflected in the legislation about to be submitted by the President. The commission said Congress should enact laws authorizing the attorney general and the victims to bring civil suits to stop private persons from harassing or intimidating Negro parents or children seeking to exercise their rights under federally approved desegregation plans.

In Middle Age Your Dreams Too Often Turn Into a Real Old Fashioned Nightmare

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Only in youth do dreams make sense. One of the worst things about middle age is what it does to your dream life. Frankly, it turns it into a sweaty nightmare.

Girls, I suppose, dream of looking beautiful in a bridal veil and dwelling happily ever after in a 36-room, rose-covered cottage with a tall, dark handsome man who grows even handsomer with the passing years.

Boys and young men don't dream about marriage. They dream about high adventure, easy money and quick romances.

But as you grow older your dreams change and wither. They lose their brightness and their laurel leaves. They become dull nightmares that bore you and count possibly interest any other person except a psychiatrist.

We no longer dream of what we would like to have happen to us. We dream of what we are afraid will happen to us.

For example, the wife who once dreamed of being a bride now dreams of someone in the family falling sick, being in an accident, or needing an operation.

At breakfast the next morning she pours these night-spawned premonitions of disaster into her husband's ears as if they were certain forecasts from heaven.

He doesn't want to hear them. He is all worn out. Bad dreams have kept him flopping like a fish all night. And what did he dream of? He dreamed of financial woes, losing his job, or work problems at the office.

In the dream most typical of a middle-aged man he is hanging from a cliff ledge by a tiny sapling. He boss is hacking at the roots with an ax, laughing maniacally, and yelling: "Ask me for more money, will you!"

These are what I call non-sense dreams. For we all have troubles enough while awake. Why dream up more?

Now and then, however, in middle age one does get a non-sense dream that makes sense. I had one the other night. I dreamed my wife turned into a mermaid.

"Was I a pretty mermaid?" asked Frances when I told her about it the next morning.

"The prettiest in the entire block."

"What did you do then?"

"I put you in the bathtub, called the circus, sold you for $10,000, got a divorce and married a rich young widow who owned a liquor store."

"I think that's a terrible dream," said Frances.

"I didn't. It made me feel good all day."

King's English We're Resuming Local Pictures

One of our exchange papers printed this lulu the other day:

"All interested parties are asked to be present for this meeting."

Eleven words — when a sharp copy editor would have slashed it to four, making it read:

"The meeting is public," or, five at the most, "All parties will be heard."

Newspapers are reputed to have trained all the magazine writers and most of those who write books, because in our business all the Fancy Dances of rhetoric are telescoped in the collision between Time and Space. As the Frenchman put it, in a letter to his daughter:

"My dear, if I had more time I would write you more briefly."

Howard Wakefield, one of the Fairchild Graphic Equipment engineers who helped unload and set up the new rotary offset press, was in town yesterday on an inspection mission. I drove him to Shreveport last night to catch a Delta jet for Jackson, whence he will drive on to his home near Birmingham — and I left him with a good feeling. For he said he believed our crew is out of the woods in our battle to learn the offset system of printing.

At any rate the press has been starting on time in recent days, and the product looks good. And we may have finally solved the technical difficulty which up to now has prevented us from running local pictures in the volume formerly used in letterpress. Back in the days of type and a flatbed press we used a leased electronic engraving machine. If you had a good original you were guaranteed a good reproduction in the newspaper. But the offset story is different.

In offset all original pictures are re-photographed and "screened" — meaning that you put into the process picture all those fine dots that you can see in any newspaper or magazine or book picture. If you miss getting the right size dot the ink won't pick it up on the press — and the best photograph in the world will be lost.

But we've come along far enough now to risk making more pictures locally. And so we're going to photograph the Arkadelphia basketball game here tonight — our first offset-produced sports pictures. But if each new day shows improvement it also has the element of surprise. So we're promising nothing in advance. Some days you win — and some days you lose.

Labor Hints Withdrawal of Support

By NEL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Organized labor showed signs today of withdrawing financial support critical to the Democrats in this year's congressional and state elections.

At least one labor union is planning to curtail drastically its usual money contributions to the Democratic party and is trying to drum up similar action among other unions.

The extent of the growing disaffection of labor from the Democrats is not yet clear.

The AFL-CIO unions at their annual midwinter meetings here are expressing open resentment against the Johnson administration on a number of issues.

One major indication was Thursday's rejection by 18 construction unions of an administration plan to submit wage disputes of a national labor-management council.

The unhappiness of the construction unions over what they consider an attempt to limit wage demands reportedly prompted a White House inquiry.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, originally not scheduled here until Feb. 23, reportedly was on his way here today — officially to soak up some sun, but, some sources said, to try to mend fences with the politically powerful labor leaders.

Lawmakers See Seventh Term for Faubus

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A sample poll of members of the Arkansas Legislature indicates that most lawmakers believe Gov. Orval Faubus will seek a seventh term.

The Associated Press contacted 15 legislators who were in Little Rock for a meeting of the Legislative Council. Ten expressed the opinion that Faubus would run again, two predicted that he would not and three said they had no opinion.

All disavowed any absolute knowledge about the governor's plans.

Almost all of those who said they thought he would run based their opinion on a general observation of events.

Little River Rep. Marion Crank said his opinion was based on "all of the activity" around Faubus.

"He's remained very active, and he's kept in touch with his friends," Crank said.

"I've never thought otherwise," said Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff. "He's been running since the first day he was elected."

Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem said Faubus would run again if the public demands it. "And I see a demand forming," he said.

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton and Rep. Joel Ledbetter of Pulaski County said they believe Faubus will run because of a lack of strong candidates elsewhere in the Democratic Party.

"He's getting a considerable amount of encouragement, and he hasn't closed the door," said Woodruff County Rep. Jack Oakes.

Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin, who was Faubus' campaign manager in 1960 and 1962, said with a smile, "I'm suspicious that he might run. The recent poll indicates that he or his friends are thinking about it."

Jackson County Rep. John W. Sink was one of the two who thought Faubus was out of the race.

"I think he'll quit while he's ahead," Sink said. "He's been a good governor and he has everything to lose and nothing to gain."

The other was Garland County Rep. Nathan Schoenfeld who said, "No, he's let too many things go on in a manner which is not conducive to causing confidence in the administration and in the minds of the people."

Hempstead County Rep. Talbot Field was one of the three who offered no personal opinion.

Court to Permit Use of Name

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ivy Baker Priest, former U.S. treasurer under President Eisenhower, has won a court case that permits her to use that name in her bid to become California's state treasurer.

The State Supreme Court overruled Wednesday a lower court appeal from Orange County that opposed her candidacy under the name Ivy Baker Priest.

Orange County attorney Roy E. June objected when the former treasurer omitted her married name, which is Stevens, in her efforts to win the Republican nomination.

June contended that use of the name Ivy Baker Priest would give her an unfair advantage because the name appears on millions of dollar bills.

Union Issues to Be Debated

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A trucking company executive has agreed to debate an aide of Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa, with unionization of his company at stake.

Sidney Alterman, president of Alterman Transport, Inc., will face national Teamsters' Representative Lawrence N. Steinberg in debates at Miami and Orlando, where the company has major depots.

A secret ballot by 600 workers will follow. If they back the union leader's arguments, the company will be unionized. If they support Alterman's views, the Teamsters will drop efforts to organize the company's employees.

"I am doing this because I believe in the voice of the people," said Alterman, whose company has depots throughout Florida and Georgia.

He said ground rules for the debates are being drawn up. They probably will be held in March.

Conflicting Reports on Collection

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — There were conflicting reports Thursday on what use would be made of money being collected for Gov. Orval Faubus.

Some said the collection drive was designed to accumulate $70,000 to be put toward the cost of the house Faubus is building near Huntsville.

There were other reports that the money would be used to finance a bid by Faubus for a seventh term as governor.

Sources who asked to remain unidentified confirmed that a collection campaign was under way. They said that various persons appointed by Faubus to state boards and commissions had been asked for donations of up to $100.

Faubus, vacationing in Florida, could not be reached for comment.

Burial Blankets Funeral Expense

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The blankets in which Indians are buried constitute a legitimate funeral expense, Arizona's attorney general has ruled.

By state law, up to $100 may be paid from state welfare funds for "reasonable funeral expenses" of those on old age or blind assistance.

Atty. Gen. Darrell Smith said Wednesday he couldn't find anything in Arizona law books about it. But he noted that the New York Supreme Court had ruled as funeral costs those "such as the expenses of a wake and morning apparel, flowers and music."

Reservation Indians who die traditionally are wrapped in blankets and their saddles are buried with them.

Rusk Testimony Climax of War Policy Hearings

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The crackling Senate probe of Viet Nam war policies draws toward a climax today with the administration using Secretary of State Dean Rusk as its chief — and possibly final — witness for the defense.

By returning to Rusk, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made a full turn of the circle. The sometimes heated hearings got under way a month ago before the resumption of North Viet Nam bombing and the Honolulu conference, when Rusk appeared for a rather routine session and got a long grilling from doves and hawks.

Since then the sessions have become the storm center of Viet Nam debate. Thursday presidential adviser Maxwell D. Taylor suggested — with the French loss in Indochina in mind — that the war could be won in Viet Nam but lost by dissension at home and expressed belief that "good strong nerves" are needed.

Taylor told the committee members that the Communists clearly are not convinced that the United States is irrevocably committed to the support of South Viet Nam.

"They have not forgotten that the Viet Minh won more in Paris than in Dien Bien Phu and believe that the Viet Cong may be as fortunate in Washington," he said.

At the close of Thursday's session — played to a full house and enlivened by some sharp exchanges — Fulbright said no more witnesses were scheduled, although he would still like to question Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey about his Asian trip.

Also, Fulbright said, the committee still must decide what it wants to do about Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

McNamara, with President Johnson's backing, has declined to be questioned about the war in public for security reasons. Fulbright said he had understood that Taylor, as former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and former ambassador to Saigon, was more or less pinching his tongue as an administration military spokesman.

Insurance Firms Told to 'Clean Up'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Insurance Department was given 30 days Thursday to "clean up" the state's health and accident insurance industry.

The Legislative Council's Insurance Committee set the ultimatum with the approval of a motion by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem.

"I think the Insurance Department has the power to straighten this thing out already," Van Dalsem said. "I move that they be told to do so within 30 days or report back here why they can't."

The committee was considering a request for a study of health insurance laws when Van Dalsem offered his motion.

Insurance Commissioner Harvey Combs agreed that no new law was needed and the motion was then approved.

Combs said, "But we can't do the job in 30 days. We'll show you some progress, though."

Van Dalsem replied, "Come back and tell us what you've done."

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton asked for the study of health insurance laws after complaints that some agents and companies are misrepresenting policies, particularly in a selling to the elderly.

"Ninety-five per cent of the insurance industry is not in this," Van Dalsem said.

"But some shysters have oozed in here," he said. Van Dalsem said that companies should be held responsible for actions by their agents after Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr. of Pulaski County said most complaints stemmed from misrepresentations by agents.

Glyn Sawyer, assistant insurance commissioner, said the department had been moving against agents and companies in an effort to halt misrepresentations.
